Particulars	Observation
Was the original trading plan followed?	Partially followed
Was an identifiable trading mistake present?	Yes
Type of mistake, if any	Early entry
Evidence supporting the finding	The planned entry was $76,591.93, while the actual entry was $76,590.74. The price then moved slightly down and the trade was closed at $76,586.17.
How did the identified mistake affect the trade?	The small downward movement resulted in a small loss instead of the expected profit.
Could the mistake have been avoided?	Yes
What should have been done differently?	The price movement should have been observed for a little longer before entering the trade.
Improvement action for future trades	Use clear entry conditions, confirm the trend, and follow the planned entry and exit levels carefully.
Key learning from the three-session analysis	Good planning, patience, confirmation, and proper risk management are important for consistent trading.
